Belfast, Sept. 14.—Armored cars patrolled the streets of Belfast today after a wild night of rioting.

Fighting which broke out shortly after midnight spread throughout the eastern section of the city. Gunmen hidden in doorways fired into the streets. A rioting crowd swung along the main thoroughfares and order was not restored until the military swept down on them with their hotchkiss guns.

The number of dead and wounded could not be determined.

A bomb thrown into Harland street was the signal for the riot. The entire east side district using rifles and revolvers fired as the detonation of the bomb died away.

Hundreds of men in the area of Newtons road seized a railroad station and the river bridge. They hid in places of vantage and fired along the main thoroughfare. Citizens in tramway cars became panicky and fled from the district. Soon all cars were stopped.

The military sped through the streets in armored cars firing their small arms without effect. It was only when they opened up on the rioters with their hotchkiss guns that the rioters threw down their arms and fled. The gang dispersed before the guns but some of them hid themselves in places of vantage and sniped until dawn. The rioters took their wounded with them. Only one body was found.

PROSECUTION HITS
SNAG IN ARBUCKLE
CASE FOR MURDER

STATES PROMINENT WITNESS
TESTIFIES FOR DEFENSE IN-
STEAD OF STATE

By M. D. TRACY,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—The state's case against Roscoe Arbuckle hit a snag today.

The sudden action of L. Semmner, manager of Miss Rappe, movie actress, with whose murder Arbuckle is charged, in testifying as a witness for Arbuckle instead of the state as had been expected, has hurt the prosecution, it was admitted. Semmner, a few days ago told authorities that Arbuckle applied a piece of ice to Miss Rappe's body while he and the girl were alone in Arbuckle's room. As a witness in Arbuckle's hearing Semmner told the story very reluctantly after three hours of drilling yesterday. Semmner resumed the stand again today when the hearing started at 10 a. m. in a courtroom crowded with women. The hearing will not be finished before late Monday, officials believed. Mrs. Arbuckle, who rushed across the continent to be with her husband from whom she had been separated, was in the courtroom with him again today, but she, Arbuckle and his attorneys and even his press agent kept silent. Much interest today centered in the possible part Dr. Arthur Beardslee, physician who first attended Miss Rappe after her fatal injury, will play in the case. He was questioned for an hour yesterday by District Attorney Brady but what he said was not revealed.

ARGUE DEMURRER
IN CHICAGO LIBEL
SUIT VS. TRIBUNE

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Precedent for muzzling the press of America will be established if the city of Chicago wins its $10,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Tribune, Attorney Weymouth Kirkland argued in court today for the newspaper.

Kirkland appeared in defense of the demurrer filed by the Tribune. The only libel suit of its kind ever filed in the United States will go to trial if the demurrer is overruled.

The suit filed by Mayor Wm. Hale Thompson for the city followed publication in the newspaper that Chicago was broke. The city holds that printing such stories harmed the credit of the city and made it impossible to sell bonds.

"Newspapers have a perfect right to criticize governments," said Kirkland in a rebuttal to arguments of Chester Cleveland, corporation counsel.

"Public policy is the business of every good newspaper. If it believes the government is not functioning as it should, the sacred duty of the paper is to say so."

Washington, Sept. 24.—Senator Borah of Idaho will carry his fight against the new German peace treaty to the people if the senate ratifies the pact.

"The fight to keep America out of European affairs has just begun, and the ratification of the new treaty with Germany would take us in there and end it," Borah declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

This fight will be carried to the people to be the second chapter in the league of nations fight. The people overwhelmingly repudiated the league and when they find that this treaty would involve America in European affairs as long as the treaty stands they will repudiate it.

PROSECUTION HITS SNAG IN ARBUCKLE CASE FOR MURDER

STATE'S PROMINENT WITNESS
TESTIFIES FOR DEFENSE IN
STEAD OF STATE

By M. D. TRACY,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—The state's case against Roscoe Arbuckle hit a snag today.

The sudden action of L. Semmacher, manager of Miss Rappe, movie actress, with whose murder Arbuckle is charged, in testifying as a witness for Arbuckle instead of the state as had been expected, has hurt the prosecution, it was admitted. Semmacher, a few days ago told authorities that Arbuckle applied a piece of ice to Miss Rappe's body while he and the girl were alone in Arbuckle's room. As a witness in Arbuckle's hearing Semmacher told the story very reluctantly after three hours of drilling yesterday. Semmacher resumed the stand again today when the hearing started at 10 a. m. in a courtroom crowded with women. The hearing will not be finished before late Monday, officials believed. Mrs. Arbuckle, who rushed across the continent to be with her husband from whom she had been separated, was in the courtroom with him again today, but she, Arbuckle and his attorneys and even his press agent kept silent. Much interest today centered in the possible part Dr. Arthur Beardslee, physician who first attended Miss Rappe after her fatal injury, will play in the case. He was questioned for an hour yesterday by District Attorney Brady but what he said was not revealed.

ARGUE DEMURRER IN CHICAGO LIBEL SUIT VS. TRIBUNE

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Precedent for muzzling the press of America will be established if the city of Chicago wins its $10,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Tribune, Attorney Weymouth Kirkland argued in court today for the newspaper.

Kirkland appeared in defense of the demurrer filed by the Tribune. The only libel suit of its kind ever filed in the United States will go to trial if the demurrer is overruled.

The suit filed by Mayor Wm. Hale Thompson for the city followed publication in the newspaper that Chicago was broke. The city holds that printing such stories harmed the credit of the city and made it impossible to sell bonds.

"Newspapers have a perfect right to criticize governments," said Kirkland in a rebuttal to arguments of Chester Cleveland, corporation counsel.

"Public policy is the business of every good newspaper. If it believes the government is not functioning as it should, the sacred duty of the paper is to say so."

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Population of Brainerd. Several queries have reached the Dispatch regarding population according to 1920 federal census. The city had 9,591. The first ward 1153, second ward 2,358, third ward 2,504, fourth ward 1,747 and fifth ward 1819.

ORIENTAL RUGS

Oriental rugs! Very few of us but know their beauty and charm, but for the majority their price is prohibitive. Still, one does not need to deny one's self the pleasure of their soft, lovely colors and deep pile, for reproductions of Oriental rugs are now to be had which look like Orientals, feel like Orientals and wear like Orientals, but are but a third or fourth the price of Oriental rugs.

These rugs are called "American" Orientals, and they certainly show the cleverness of American ingenuity, for they have all the charm and rare coloring of the rugs from the far East, with their lustre and richness, yet still are within the reach of persons of more or less slender means, who have and can now indulge a taste for the beauty and harmony which until recently was only associated with rugs direct from the Orient.

In the windows of the Northern Home Furnishing Company are a few of these rugs. To the left is one of medium size but distinguished design. The central motive is three octagon shaped designs against a background of dark old rose. The edges of the rug are not noticeable in patterns, the interest being focused on the design in the center.

Next is a larger rug of quiet colors and pattern, against whose rich texture the more ornamental pieces of furniture would stand in bold relief. To the right is a matching rug of smaller size. The large rug next shown is an interesting one, with a decided patterns most pleasing. A rug of this character would harmonize with almost any period furniture, and still would not be out of place with the more modern pieces.

And to the extreme left is one of the most beautiful rugs shown. Though not large, it is most effective, and arrests attention by its originality. Against a groundwork of black, small conventional designs rest like flower petals. How such a rug as this would brighten up a room! At this season of the year, when summer furniture and draperies are being discarded, one or two new rugs and a few pieces of distinctive furniture added to the home make it delightfully livable, thus helping to form a congenial center of happy family life. ad11

On glistening white linen damask are displayed these appetizing products, some in glass jars, some in tall bottles and the soups, baked beans, spaghetti, sauer kraut and puddings in sanitary cans. Mr. J. E. Hedstrom serves each customer with a sample of the delicious soups, which are kept hot in two steaming chafing-dishes. Little cups of stiff paper are used for this purpose, while tiny plates of cardboard hold samples of preserves, jellies, and pickle products. The service is very pleasing, all containers bearing the famous prize-winning Heinz pickle.

EVERYTHING HAPPENS

ON MONDAY, SEPT. 26

On Monday, September 25, Brainerd will be host for three big meetings.

The American Legion of the Sixth District, will hold its business session of the convention Monday.

The legislative committee headed by Speaker Nolan will mobilize at Brainerd and start their tour of the Cuyuna Iron range to gain first hand information.

Resort keepers of the lakes in the Brainerd region will meet at the Chamber of Commerce.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Population of Brainerd. Several queries have reached the Dispatch regarding population according to 1920 federal census. The city had 9,591. The first ward 1,153, second ward 2,368, third ward 2,504, fourth ward 1,747 and fifth ward 1,819.

ORIENTAL RUGS

Oriental rugs! Very few of us but know their beauty and charm, but for the majority their price is prohibitive. Still, one does not need to deny one's self the pleasure of their soft, lovely colors and deep pile, for reproductions of Oriental rugs are now to be had which look like Orientals, feel like Orientals and wear like Orientals, but are but a third or fourth the price of Oriental rugs.

These rugs are called "American" Orientals, and they certainly show the cleverness of American ingenuity, for they have all the charm and rare coloring of the rugs from the far East, with their lustre and richness, yet still are within the reach of persons of more or less slender means, who have and can now indulge a taste for the beauty and harmony which until recently was only associated with rugs direct from the Orient.

In the windows of the Northern Home Furnishing Company are a few of these rugs. To the left is one of medium size but distinguished design. The central motive is three octagon shaped designs against a background of dark old rose. The edges of the rug are not noticeable in patterns, the interest being focused on the design in the center.

Next is a larger rug of quiet colors and pattern, against whose rich texture the more ornamental pieces of furniture would stand in bold relief. To the right is a matching rug of smaller size. The large rug next shown is an interesting one, with a decided pattern most pleasing. A rug of this character would harmonize with almost any period furniture, and still would not be out of place with the more modern pieces.

And to the extreme left is one of the most beautiful rugs shown. Though not large, it is most effective, and arrests attention by its originality. Against a groundwork of black, small conventional designs rest like flower petals. How such a rug as this would brighten up a room! At this season of the year, when summer furniture and draperies are being discarded, one or two new rugs and a few pieces of distinctive furniture added to the home make it delightfully livable, thus helping to form a congenial center of happy family life. ad1t

TOURING THROUGH NORTH COUNTRY

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Orne Tell of Impressions of Motoring to Canadian Boundary

VISIT THE J. W. STEPP RANCH

Former Brainerd Man in 12 Yrs. Has Carved Out a Very Productive Farm

This is an account of the wanderings of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Orne and the geographer.

We left Brainerd about 8 a. m. over the Minnesota Scenic highway, the objective point being J. W. Stepp's ranch at Williams, near Lake of the Woods. Mr. Stepp will be remembered as being in the confectionary business, Mr. Orne occupying the other half of the building.

We carried baggage for three and a well stocked commissary department, the most useful article being a thermos pail, and last but not least a trail map.

We headed north past Gull and Round lakes and all the numerous Cullens, through Pequot, Pine River, Backus and Hackensack. We had dinner on the shore of Ten Mile lake, this being a favored spot of the tourists. Soon we began to strike hills and curves as we came to Walker, on the shore of Leech lake, which is one of the big lakes of Minnesota.

A few miles north of Walker is a detour which runs east of Steamboat lake. This detour is poor and badly marked. However, by making inquiries we eventually came to Cass Lake. From there we drove northwest past numerous small lakes. The next town we struck was Nymore, where a big sawmill is located on Lake Bemidji. From there the road is paved into Bemidji, which is nicely situated on the south shore of the lake.

From there the road runs northwest along the lake shore through Birchmont Beach—a beautiful summer resort, on through a grove of tall Norway pines. This was a welcome sight, as such trees are becoming scarcer every year.

Overlooking the lake, where the road turns north is located the celebrated Birchmont golf grounds. Then on past Turtle River, Farley and Tenstrike and at about six o'clock we reached Blackduck Lake, where we made a camp fire and boiled some potatoes in the coffee pail. Potatoes cooked this way have a delicious flavor, not obtained any other way. We had carried our coffee from home in the thermos pail.

We drove around the lake into the village of Blackduck, hunted up a hotel and garage, then took in the sights along Broadway.

Being a hardwood country, the soil in this vicinity is very fertile and is being rapidly developed into farms. The roads are excellent, good crops of corn and potatoes were seen along the highway. We replenished our commissary department and moved on to the next town which is Northome, where a large, modern hotel is in process of construction. Our route lay northeast through Mozhah, Gemmell and Margie, old lumber towns. Even now one sees large piles of logs, ties and poles awaiting shipment. A few miles north of Mizpah the road runs through tamarack and cedar swamps. A large ditch dug there in the driest weather has a foot or more of water running in it. The water that seeps out of these swamps is the color of good strong coffee, probably from the decayed vegetation. The soil thrown up from the ditch is leveled off and used for a road. In places it has a gumbo surface and other places peat, which is about as bad to drive through as wet gumbo. Portions of the road are graveled, probably to give the driver fresh encouragement.

Along the side of the road are found raspberry bushes growing in great profusion and where it is boggy blueberry bushes, loaded down with berries, tons of them going to waste. We picked a few for our immediate use.

About noon we reached Big Falls, which is located high and dry on the Big Fork River. This is the first real scenery we ran across for some time. The river at this point runs over, around and between mighty rocks, forming cascades and falls. There is a tourist camp ground and a fine spring at this place where we had dinner. We met several parties of tourists, some going north and others going south.

From there on it is a repetition of what we had previously gone through except that it had been burned over and grown up with fireweed which causes the landscape to assume a reddish purple haze. This flower would produce tons of honey if the bees were on the job. The highway parallels the railroad for miles and it gradually gets better as one nears International Falls, which proved to be quite a dot on the map. It is a progressive, wideawake town, where the men carry dinner baskets the size of picnic baskets. One of the few remaining sawmills in Minnesota and one of the largest paper mills is located there. This paper mill seems to be an international affair, as part of it is across the river at Ft. Francis, Ontario.

There is a custom house at both ends of the International bridge. It costs foot passengers five cents to cross and automobiles fifty cents.

We soon found a hotel, but had some difficulty finding a garage as everything closes at 6 p. m. promptly. At 8 a. m. in the morning the town is officially open and the wheels begin to turn. After much parley about the condition of the roads on both the Canadian and the American side, we decided to keep on the American side.

We found fair roads for about twenty miles, then one of the best gravel roads we traveled over with fine farms and good buildings on either side. Occasionally some low lands with blueberries growing by the roadside.

We followed the Rainy River closely as far as Baudette. The Canadian side seems to be a much older settled country. Baudette and Spooner are live towns about a mile from each other, both have large saw mills. The Canadian Northern crosses over into the U. S. at this point.

From there on to Williams we traveled through the burned over district of several years ago. In some places the peaty soil which covers the clay is completely burned away, leaving the old pine stumps standing with their roots exposed. It is an easy matter to tip these stumps over. Some of the farmers use these stumps to make a fence around their fields. This burned over country is being rapidly turned into very productive farms. Where the land is undisturbed it is growing up with fireweed, raspberry and blueberry bushes. Soon we found ourselves at Williams, a small town on the Canadian Northern near the end of our journey. We telephoned for instructions how to reach the Stepp ranch, and were soon on our way, directly north toward Lake of the Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Stepp had the misfortune to lose their home by fire last spring, but are rebuilding. They located there 12 years ago in heavy timber and are gradually carving out a first class farm. The soil there is very productive. Some of the finest vegetables we have seen this year were grown on his and neighboring farms. The soil will produce anything that is planted, watermelons and sweet corn of a most delicious flavor; field corn, oats, wheat, clover, and wonderful potatoes.

We found quite a Brainerd colony located near Lake of the Woods—Mrs. E. C. Collins, who was formerly Miss Lill Keith, Everett Fuller, Mrs. Guy Weaver, who was Clara Fuller, Mrs. Percy Sorenson, who was Edith Stepp, Mrs. Melvie, who was Gertrude Thoe, Robert Armstrong, a nephew of B. F. Armstrong of this city, all doing well and boosting for the north country. While there we had a hayrack party at Lake of the Woods. To put it mildly, we dined off the fat of the land. This might well be called the county of "Big Eats."

Lake of the Woods is a beautiful sheet of water 40 miles long and about 18 wide. The fish are caught in traps made by driving stakes in the lake and then stringing nets around them. Fishing is quite an industry around the lake, the Booth Co. taking care of the fish. There is a good bathing beach, which we took advantage of.

After spending a couple of days exploring the north, we bid our friends goodbye and with a rainstorm in prospect started on our return journey. Before very long we were enjoying the perils and thrills of traveling over wet gumbo. All that previous travelers have said about wet gumbo is all true and then some. Our car wheels looked like huge doughnuts, minus the hole.

On reaching Williams we struck a good graveled road as far as Roosevelt, after that more gumbo and peat, improving as we traveled west. At Warroad we struck good roads again and from there through Roreau, Badger, Greenbush and Karlstad we found the best of graveled roads, smooth as a pavement. Karlstad is the north-west end of the Minnesota Scenic Highway. From there we were advised to travel east to Strathcona, then south to Thief River Falls. We found very good roads through a fine farming country. Here one saw large wheat fields, and enormous meadows, also fields of red and sweet clover. This is quite a cattle country.

Thief River Falls is an up-to-date town with nice looking buildings, good hotels and garages. So we decided to camp there. At this point we struck the Jefferson highway. Red Lake Falls is the next town on the route. From there east one goes through Terrebonne, Brooks and Gonic, then south to Bagley. This is a continuation of the wheat country. Along the road we saw dozens of threshing machines at work. From Bagley we took the cut off south to Itasca Park. The north end of the road is good. The south end a very good imitation of a roller coaster. One gets a good birdseye view of the country, the starting point of the Mississippi as it flows from Lake Itasca. Just before entering the park, on each side of the road are some clear old springs, which are worth investigating. At this end of the park is a tourist camp ground, in charge of the State School of Forestry, which has its summer quarters in the park, where, for a fee of fifty cents, and a five dollar deposit one may camp any length of time. On leaving the five is returned if no damage has been done to the park property.

We failed to find a resting place for the night and were obliged to journey on to Park Rapids. This is a very beautiful drive and the road winds in and out along the shores of the numerous lakes. Eventually we landed at an inn highly advertised as a storehouse for travelers and their cars. Park Rapids is short on hotels, but even up on garages. We recommend the Park Rapids Auto Co. to all travelers. Ladies will find a large comfortable rest room in connection. This town is the headquarters of a good dairy and farming community.

One grand detour on account of road work brought us to Akeley and then to Walker. Numerous farms are being opened up along this route.

We arrived at Walker about noon and opposite the depot we found a restaurant we recommend to hungry travelers. A large new tourist hotel is being constructed down near the shore of Leech Lake, which will be ready by next season to take care of the increasing travel through the Ten Thousand Lakes country.

A drive of a few hours brought us back to the familiar highways and byways of Brainerd and the end of our journey with pine tree decorations on our car.

Potatoes cooked this way have a delicious flavor, not obtained any other way. We had carried our coffee from home in the thermos pail.

We drove around the lake into the village of Blackduck, hunted up a hotel and garage then took in the sights along Broadway.

Being a hardwood country, the soil in this vicinity is very fertile and is being rapidly developed into farms. The roads are excellent, good crops of corn and potatoes were seen along the highway. We replenished our commissary department and moved on to the next town which is Northome, where a large, modern hotel is in process of construction. Our route lay northeast through Mozhah, Gemmell and Margie, old lumber towns. Even now one sees large piles of logs, ties and poles awaiting shipment. A few miles north of Mizpah the road runs through tamarack and cedar swamps. A large ditch dug there in the driest weather has a foot or more of water running in it. The water that seeps out of these swamps is the color of good strong coffee, probably from the decayed vegetation. The soil thrown up from the ditch is leveled off and used for a road. In places it has a gumbo surface and other places peat, which is about as bad to drive through as wet gumbo. Portions of the road are graveled, probably to give the driver fresh encouragement.

Along the side of the road are found raspberry bushes growing in great profusion and where it is boggy blueberry bushes, loaded down with berries, tons of them going to waste. We picked a few for our immediate use.

About noon we reached Big Falls, which is located high and dry on the Big Fork River. This is the first real scenery we ran across for some time. The river at this point runs over, around and between mighty rocks, forming cascades and falls. There is a tourist camp ground and a fine spring at this place where we had dinner. We met several parties of tourists, some going north and others going south.

From there on it is a repetition of what we had previously gone through except that it had been burned over and grown up with fireweed which causes the landscape to assume a red-dish purple haze. This flower would produce tons of honey if the bees were on the job. The highway parallels the railroad for miles and it gradually gets better as one nears International Falls, which proved to be quite a dot on the map. It is a progressive, wideawake town, where the men carry dinner baskets the size of picnic baskets. One of the few remaining sawmills in Minnesota and one of the largest paper mills is located there. This paper mill seems to be an international affair, as part of it is across the river at Ft. Francis, Ontario.

There is a custom house at both ends of the International bridge. It costs foot passengers five cents to cross and automobiles fifty cents.

We soon found a hotel, but had some difficulty finding a garage as everything closes at 6 p. m. promptly. At 8 a. m. in the morning the town is officially open and the wheels begin to turn. After much parley about the condition of the roads on both the Canadian and the American side, we decided to keep on the American side.

We found fair roads for about twenty miles, then one of the best gravel roads we traveled over with fine farms and good buildings on either side. Occasionally some low lands with blueberries growing by the roadside.

We followed the Rainy River closely as far as Baudette. The Canadian side seems to be a much older settled country. Baudette and Spooner are live towns about a mile from each other, both have large saw mills. The Canadian Northern crosses over into the U. S. at this point.

From there on to Williams we traveled through the burned over district of several years ago. In some places the peaty soil which covers the clay is completely burned away, leaving the old pine stumps standing with their roots exposed. It is an easy matter to tip these stumps over. Some of the farmers use these stumps to make a fence around their fields.

This burned over country is being rapidly turned into very productive farms. Where the land is undisturbed it is growing up with fireweed, raspberry and blueberry bushes. Soon we found ourselves at Williams, a small town on the Canadian Northern near the end of our journey. We telephoned for instructions how to reach the Stepp ranch, and were soon on our way, directly north toward Lake of the Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Stepp had the misfortune to lose their home by fire last spring, but are rebuilding. They located there 12 years ago in heavy timber and are gradually carving out a first class farm. The soil there is very productive. Some of the finest vegetables we have seen this year were grown on his and neighboring farms. The soil will produce anything that is planted, watermelons and sweet corn of a most delicious flavor, field corn, oats, wheat, clover, and wonderful potatoes.

We found quite a Brainerd colony located near Lake of the Woods—Mrs. E. C. Collins, who was formerly Miss Lill Keith, Everett Fuller, Mrs. Guy Weaver, who was Clara Fuller, Mrs. Percy Sorenson, who was Edith Stepp, Mrs. Melvie, who was Gertrude Thoe, Robert Armstrong, a nephew of B. F. Armstrong of this city, all doing well and boosting for the north country. While there we had a hayrack party at Lake of the Woods. To put it mildly, we dined off the fat of the land. This might well be called the county of "Big Eats."

Lake of the Woods is a beautiful sheet of water 40 miles long and about 18 wide. The fish are caught in traps made by driving stakes in the lake and then stringing nets around them. Fishing is quite an industry around the lake, the Booth Co. taking care of the fish. There is a good bathing beach, which we took advantage of.

After spending a couple of days exploring the north, we bid our friends goodbye and with a rainstorm in prospect started on our return journey. Before very long we were enjoying the perils and thrills of traveling over wet gumbo. All that previous travelers have said about wet gumbo is all true and then some. Our car wheels looked like huge doughnuts, minus the hole.

On reaching Williams we struck a good graveled road as far as Roosevelt, after that more gumbo and peat, improving as we traveled west. At Warroad we struck good roads again and from there through Koreau, Badger, Greenbush and Karlstad we found the best of graveled roads, smooth as a pavement. Karlstad is the north-west end of the Minnesota Scenic Highway. From there we were advised to travel east to Strathcona, then south to Thief River Falls. We found very good roads through a fine farming country. Here one saw large wheat fields, and enormous meadows, also fields of red and sweet clover. This is quite a cattle country.

Thief River Falls is an up-to-date town with nice looking buildings, good hotels and garages. So we decided to camp there. At this point we struck the Jefferson highway. Red Lake Falls is the next town on the route. From there east one goes through Terrebonne, Brooks and Gouville, then south to Bagley. This is a continuation of the wheat country. Along the road we saw dozens of threshing machines at work. From Bagley we took the cut off south to Itasca Park. The north end of the road is good. The south end a very good imitation of a roller coaster. One gets a good birdseye view of the country, the starting point of the Mississippi as it flows from Lake Itasca. Just before entering the park, on each side of the road are some clear old springs, which are worth investigating. At this end of the park is a tourist camp ground, in charge of the State School of Forestry, which has its summer quarters in the park, where, for a fee of fifty cents, and a five dollar deposit one may camp any length of time. On leaving the five is returned if no damage has been done to the park property.

We failed to find a resting place for the night and were obliged to journey on to Park Rapids. This is a very beautiful drive and the road winds in and out along the shores of the numerous lakes. Eventually we landed at an inn highly advertised as a storehouse for travelers and their cars. Park Rapids is short on hotels, but even up on garages. We recommend the Park Rapids Auto Co. to all travelers. Ladies will find a large comfortable rest room in connection. This town is the headquarters of a good dairy and farming community.

One grand detour on account of road work brought us to Akeley and then to Walker. Numerous farms are being opened up along this route.

We arrived at Walker about noon and opposite the depot we found a restaurant we recommend to hungry travelers. A large new tourist hotel is being constructed down near the shore of Leech Lake, which will be ready by next season to take care of the increasing travel through the Ten Thousand Lakes country.

A drive of a few hours brought us back to the familiar highways and byways of Brainerd and the end of our journey with pine tree decorations on our car.

GLAD TO SEE YOU, BOYS!

Members of the American Legion of the Sixth Congressional district, who meet in convention in Brainerd on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 25 and 26, will be most cordially welcomed. The veterans of the world war are always welcome in Brainerd, and we are theirs to command. We sincerely trust that their meeting here will prove both interesting and profitable; we know that our citizens will do everything in their power to make it pleasant and agreeable to their honored guests.

The American Legion today has a powerful influence in moulding public sentiment and there can be no more appropriate agency for this than the 4,000,000 men who took up arms for the defense of the nation. They can bring the profiteer to book; they can silence the agitator who arrays class against class; they can drive crooked politicians from public life, and they can scotch the snake of Bolshevism. The veterans possess a purifying effect upon the national life which they apparently do not yet fully realize, but which opens for them the opportunity for service unparalleled in history.

We voice the sentiment of the entire community in extending to these honored visitors a most cordial and hearty welcome to our city.

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVANCE

Under the leadership of President Harding and officials of his administration, "a solemn ceremonial to voice at once the nation's gratitude to the soldier dead and its hopes of deliverance from the burden of heavy armaments," will be observed from coast to coast on Armistice Day.

The plans for the two-day observance are expected to include a nationwide demonstration for the limitation of armament by organized labor, prayer services in many churches, special meetings of women's organizations, and ceremonies of various forms by civic, industrial and political bodies, generally. President Harding will probably issue a proclamation setting the day aside as a national holiday.

American labor, it is said, has asked the American Legion and other national organizations to cooperate in demonstrations throughout the country on Armistice Day, not only to celebrate the victory of 1918, but to impress the delegates to the conference on the limitation of armaments with the earnest desire of the people to reduce military and naval expenditures and minimize the chances of war.

AMERICAN SYSTEM OF VALUATION

It will be noticed that as a rule the opposition to the adoption of the American system of valuation—that is, valuation on the basis of market value in the United States rather than of the market value in the country from which goods are shipped—comes from importers and persons interested in importations, and not from American producers or consumers.

The adoption of the American system does not lower or raise the tariff rate because the rates themselves can either be raised or lowered by Congress with American valuation as the basis. It does eliminate a fruitful source of fraud in behalf of alien production and distribution, and also gross inequality as between competing foreign nations.

During one month recently imports entered the United States from 107 foreign countries, thus creating 107 bases of valuation. The revenues and industrial conditions of the United States are thus subjected to fluctuations of value in 107 foreign lands.

STATE FAIR PRICES

The State Fair officials have, it is understood, decided to return to the old rate of fifty cents as admission next year, with a like figure for the grand stand and a proportional reduction in other charges. The fair this year was undoubtedly the biggest and best yet given, but it suffered both in attendance and receipts, largely due to the high prices. This fair has never been excelled in point of attractions. Vance Chapman, the well known newspaper correspondent, commenting upon the proposed return to the old rate of admission, says: "Well, it is about time and the pity is that at least a part of the proposed reform was not put into effect in the case of the fair just closed. The present admission fees are entirely too high, and if the proposed reduction is not made, the fair management can prepare for legislative interference. It is coming."

STATE PROBES UNEMPLOYMENT

There is evidently a determination up the part of the state officials to get down to the bottom of facts concerning unemployment in Minnesota. A set of questionnaires has been prepared and distributed among the various employees of the State Department of Labor for the purpose of securing accurate information. These will be distributed to the employers of labor for them to fill out. The questions ask the number of skilled, unskilled and clerical working force employed; the average number of these for the year, the estimated working force during the coming winter months, and the average normal working force during the winter months.

KU KLUX KLAN INVESTIGATION

Attorney General Daugherty is investigating the activities of the Ku Klux Klan, and declares that if the facts warrant he will ask a grand jury investigation and urge indictments against any members where justified. Any Federal action against the Klan will probably be under some statute covering conspiracy, but the legal problem involved is somewhat complex. "The government," Mr. Daugherty says, "is not to be run or intimidated by any man or organization behind a mask."

READY TO STORE WHEAT

The U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., the farmers' marketing association recently organized to stabilize the price of wheat, is under way in the Northwest through the efforts of the three Northwest directors. The plan is to store the farmers' wheat in Equity elevators, where it will be "sold only as real demand for it occurs." Money made available by the government and financiers by a liberal credit policy will be used to pay the farmers as they haul their grain to the country stations.

FOOD PRICES ADVANCING

Reports from the Department of Labor show that wholesale prices increased 2.75 per cent in August over July levels. Wholesale food prices leading in the advance with an increase of 13.5 per cent. Farm products, including many food products, were 2.5 per cent higher in August than in July. Since August last year, however, according to the figures made public, farm products have declined nearly 47 per cent, clothes and clothing 40 per cent and building materials 39½ per cent. The average decline in all wholesale commodities since last August was given as 39 per cent.

The St. Cloud Times of Tuesday contained a telegram from Washburn, Wis., giving an account of the death there of D. W. Corning, "nephew of J. B. Webster, who wrote 'Home, Sweet Home.'" The millions of people who have always believed that John Howard Payne, the American editor and actor, was the author of "Home, Sweet Home," will no doubt be surprised to hear the claim being made for "J. B. Webster."

An appropriation of $30,000 has been made by the State Emergency Relief Board, one-half to pay expenses arising from the recent forest fires, and the remainder to be reserved for emergency work during the remainder of the season. Owing to the danger of fires until snow flies, it will be necessary to employ additional patrol rangers and take other precautions requiring money.

The Mahanomen Pioneer emphatically declares that "if the railways do not get their rates down somewhere near the pre-war basis by the time the Babcock system of highways is completed, they can keep them right where they are. Trucks and automobiles will do the business. Railways will not be so absolutely essential as they have been."

In our humble opinion the character of the screen plays themselves is about as important as the character of the actors and actresses who produce them. Boycotting of the Arbuckle pictures was natural, but are there not many, very many, other pictures that should also be barred? A general clean-up is long past due.

Sam Gompers, in delivering a partisan Democratic harangue recently in Baltimore, said he spoke as "a non-partisan and a free lance." Mr. Gompers is a non-partisan and free lance who has supported the Democratic national ticket in every campaign since long before his naturalization as an American citizen.

Representative Sydney Anderson of Minnesota, chairman of the joint commission on agriculture inquiry, declares that agriculture is worse off today than it was thirty years ago so far as the relative purchasing power of farm products is concerned. He suggests many ways in which Congress can help the farmer.

Bankers and farmers attending the agricultural credit conference at St. Paul this week express the belief that the steps being taken by the War Finance Corporation to make $1,000,000,000 in credit available for agricultural purposes promise relief to rural Minnesota in its financial difficulties.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press calls attention to the fact that "in spite of or notwithstanding the fact that Congressman Volstead is back in Minnesota this month, September is breaking many a record for wetness."

A Chicago expert figures that consumption of wheat in this country and seed requirements will account for 640,000,000 bushels of the present crop. Consumption is expected to be high on account of the short potato crop.

AMUSEMENTS

At the New Park Theatre
 In Rex Beach's "The Silver Horde," story interest vies with excellent acting for the first place among the many good things that can be said about this production. "The Silver Horde" as a novel proved to be one of the most pronounced literary successes of the present day, not only in the volume of its sale, but also in the word-of-mouth notoriety that it inspired.

On the screen this tale of strife and love in the primitive North retains all of its plot strength and interest, and is further enhanced by the convincing realism in action which only the screen can offer. To the multitudinous readers of the book it will be very thrilling to see those wonderful characters, Boyd Emerson and Cherry Malotte, directing Big George's fight against the money-worshipping trust interests of New York, taking part on the side in a little romance which gradually eliminates the haughty Mildred Wayland as a factor and settles down to a plain case of mutual adoration between Emerson and Cherry.

The unpleasant, hateful people in the story such as Marsh, unprincipled head of the Marsh Canning Company, Wayland, the financial power behind the concern, and Swanson, a prominent figure in Marsh's criminal schemes, are happily disposed of in a manner proportionate to their deserts, giving the picture a rounded-out and gratifying ending.

The cast of "The Silver Horde," which is the feature of the program at the New Park theatre, today contains such noted screen favorites as Robert McKim, Myrtle Stedman, Frederick Stanton, Betty Blythe, Curtis Cooksey, Hector Sarno, Carl Clyde and R. D. MacLean. Frank Lloyd directed the production.

Fine Western Picture at Lyceum

Do you like motion pictures of the Great West? If so, go to the Lyceum theatre and see Big Bill Fairbanks in his latest Western Feature, "The Broadway Buckaroo," from the story by W. Hughes Curran. Mr. Fairbanks is seen in his best in this production appearing in evening clothes and also in his well known western costume.

New Picture Play by James Oliver

Curwood a Treat for Everyone
 "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre on Monday and Tuesday, is a vigorous, fighting story of primitive men and stout-hearted, beautiful women, fierce huskies and malemutes, red-blooded adventure and rare romance, surprise and suspense, mystery and thrills staged in the vast white arena of the frozen North. It has all the zip and zest, the drama and color in its score of high lights that makes it just what it is—a prize special photoplay production. It is a classic of the North—a masterpiece of dramatic writing made into a masterpiece of a photoplay.

It is a gem of the genius of James Oliver Curwood. A born thriller. It is one of the best offerings of the season.

Scene at the New Park Saturday, October 1st

"The Invisible Divorce"

Could you still be a wife to a man who loved another woman? This question is the theme of a photoplay that looks fearlessly at life, "The Invisible Divorce," which is to be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday afternoon and night.

This production finds a new peephole in that corner of life into which so many people stray, but in this instance it probes the sort of a divorce that never reaches the headlines of a newspaper. When a divorce would mean scandal and notoriety and when a wife and husband live together with that wall of disillusionment between them, then comes suffering more intense than in the divorce cases we read about.

"Ladies Night"

"Ladies Night" is the frivolous and fetching and frolicsome title of the exceedingly frolicsome, fetching and frivolous farce written by Avery Hopwood and Charlton Andrews, and which has had a successful run at the Eltinge Theatre, New York, for more than a year. A. H. Woods will present this farce at the New Park theatre on Saturday, Oct. 1.

Being the logical successor of such uproarious Woods entertainment as "Up in Mabel's Room," "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" and "Girl in the Limousine," "Ladies Night" naturally begins where the others end. Hence, the adventures of the poor, shy and inoffensive young hero of "Ladies Night" need a Turkish Bath setting for their proper expression. The authors have adopted as their slogan "Speed and Spice Without Sin." Of course Ralph Bunker is the hero. Anybody who is not familiar with the farce heroics of Mr. Bunker has missed one of the illuminating features of the American theatre. Mr. Bunker's chief colleague in suspicious virtue is the entertaining Dave Jones and Stanley De Wolf. To assist these gentlemen in their accidents and escapes, Mr. Woods has selected a trio of exquisite beauties named Muriel Hudson, Josephine Saxe, Ebba Andrus, to say nothing of a bewildering display of costumes and curves. Others in the cast are Ellen Best, Antoinette Crawford, Mary Mixon, Marjorie Chester, Alma Wall, Bobbie Lee, Helen Courtney, Josephine Deffry, Doll Farlandau, Lillian Smalley, and William Dorbin.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 24, 1921

GLAD TO SEE YOU, BOYS!

Members of the American Legion of the Sixth Congressional district, who meet in convention in Brainerd on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 25 and 26, will be most cordially welcomed. The veterans of the world war are always welcome in Brainerd, and we are theirs to command. We sincerely trust that their meeting here will prove both interesting and profitable; we know that our citizens will do everything in their power to make it pleasant and agreeable to their honored guests.

The American Legion today has a powerful influence in moulding public sentiment and there can be no more appropriate agency for this than the 4,000,000 men who took up arms for the defense of the nation. They can bring the profiteer to book; they can silence the agitator who arranges class against class; they can drive crooked politicians from public life, and they can scotch the snake of Bolshevism. The veterans possess a purifying effect upon the national life which they apparently do not yet fully realize, but which opens for them the opportunity for service unparalleled in history.

We voice the sentiment of the entire community in extending to these honored visitors a most cordial and hearty welcome to our city.

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVANCE

Under the leadership of President Harding and officials of his administration, "a solemn ceremonial to voice at once the nation's gratitude to the soldier dead and his hopes of deliverance from the burden of heavy armaments," will be observed from coast to coast on Armistice Day.

The plans for the two-fold observance are expected to include a nationwide demonstration for the limitation of armament by organized labor, prayer services in many churches, special meetings of women's organizations, and ceremonies of various forms by civic, industrial and political bodies, generally. President Harding will probably issue a proclamation setting the day aside as a national holiday.

American labor, it is said, has asked the American Legion and other national organizations to cooperate in demonstrations throughout the country on Armistice Day, not only to celebrate the victory of 1918, but to impress the delegates to the conference on the limitation of armaments with the earnest desire of the people to reduce military and naval expenditures and minimize the chances of war.

AMERICAN SYSTEM OF VALUATION

It will be noticed that as a rule the opposition to the adoption of the American system of valuation—that is, valuation on the basis of market value in the United States rather than of the market value in the country from which goods are shipped—comes from importers and persons interested in importations, and not from American producers or consumers.

The adoption of the American system does not lower or raise the tariff rate because the rates themselves can either be raised or lowered by Congress with American valuation as the basis. It does eliminate a fruitful source of fraud in behalf of alien production and distribution, and also gross inequality as between competing foreign nations.

During one month recently imports entered the United States from 107 foreign countries, thus creating 107 bases of valuation. The revenues and industrial conditions of the United States are thus subjected to fluctuations of value in 107 foreign lands.

STATE FAIR PRICES

The State Fair officials have, it is understood, decided to return to the old rate of fifty cents as admission next year, with a like figure for the grand stand and a proportional reduction in other charges. The fair this year was undoubtedly the biggest and best yet given, but it suffered both in attendance and receipts, largely due to the high prices. This fair has never been excelled in point of attractions. Vance Chapman, the well known newspaper correspondent, commenting upon the proposed return to the old rate of admission, says: "Well, it is about time and the pity is that at least a part of the proposed reform was not put into effect in the case of the fair just closed. The present admission fees are entirely too high, and if the proposed reduction is not made, the fair management can prepare for legislative interference. It is coming."

STATE PROBES UNEMPLOYMENT

There is evidently a determination up the part of the state officials to get down to the bottom of facts concerning unemployment in Minnesota. A set of questionnaires has been prepared and distributed among the various employees of the State Department of Labor for the purpose of securing accurate information. These will be distributed to the employers of labor for them to fill out. The questions ask the number of skilled, unskilled and clerical working force employed; the average number of these for the year, the estimated working force during the coming winter months, and the average normal working force during the winter months.

KU KLUX KLAN INVESTIGATION

Attorney General Daugherty is investigating the activities of the Ku Klux Klan, and declares that if the facts warrant he will ask a grand jury investigation and urge indictments against any members where justified. Any Federal action against the Klan will probably be under some statute covering conspiracy, but the legal problem involved is somewhat complex. "The government," Mr. Daugherty says, "is not to be run or intimidated by any man or organization behind a mask."

READY TO STORE WHEAT

The U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., the farmers' marketing association recently organized to stabilize the price of wheat, is under way in the Northwest through the efforts of the three Northwest directors. The plan is to store the farmers' wheat in Equity elevators, where it will be "sold only as real demand for it occurs." Money made available by the government and financiers by a liberal credit policy will be used to pay the farmers as they haul their grain to the country stations.

FOOD PRICES ADVANCING

Reports from the Department of Labor show that wholesale prices increased 2.75 per cent in August over July levels. Wholesale food prices leading in the advance with an increase of 13.5 per cent. Farm products, including many food products, were 2.5 per cent higher in August than in July. Since August last year, however, according to the figures made public, farm products have declined nearly 47 per cent, clothes and clothing 40 per cent and building materials 39½ per cent. The average decline in all wholesale commodities since last August was given as 39 per cent.

The St. Cloud Times of Tuesday contained a telegram from Washburn, Wis., giving an account of the death there of D. W. Corning, "nephew of J. B. Webster, who wrote 'Home, Sweet Home.'" The millions of people who have always believed that John Howard Payne, the American editor and actor, was the author of "Home, Sweet Home," will no doubt be surprised to hear the claim being made for "J. B. Webster."

An appropriation of $30,000 has been made by the State Emergency Relief Board, one-half to pay expenses arising from the recent forest fires, and the remainder to be reserved for emergency work during the remainder of the season. Owing to the danger of fires until snow flies, it will be necessary to employ additional patrol rangers and take other precautions requiring money.

The Mahanomen Pioneer emphatically declares that "if the railways do not get their rates down somewhere near the pre-war basis by the time the Babcock system of highways is completed, they can keep them right where they are. Trucks and automobiles will do the business. Railways will not be so absolutely essential as they have been."

In our humble opinion the character of the screen plays themselves is about as important as the characters of the actors and actresses who produce them. Boycotting of the Arbuckle pictures was natural, but are there not many, very many, other pictures that should also be barred? A general clean-up is long past due.

Sam Gompers, in delivering a partisan Democratic harangue recently in Baltimore, said he spoke as "a non-partisan and a free lance." Mr. Gompers is a non-partisan and free lance who has supported the Democratic national ticket in every campaign since long before his naturalization as an American citizen.

Representative Sydney Anderson of Minnesota, chairman of the joint commission on agriculture inquiry, declares that agriculture is worse off today than it was thirty years ago so far as the relative purchasing power of farm products is concerned. He suggests many ways in which Congress can help the farmer.

Bankers and farmers attending the agricultural credit conference at St. Paul this week express the belief that the steps being taken by the War Finance Corporation to make $1,000,000,000 in credit available for agricultural purposes promise relief to rural Minnesota in its financial difficulties.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press calls attention to the fact that "in spite of or notwithstanding the fact that Congressman Volstead is back in Minnesota this month, September is breaking many a record for wetness."

A Chicago expert figures that consumption of wheat in this country and seed requirements will account for 640,000,000 bushels of the present crop. Consumption is expected to be high on account of the short potato crop.

AMUSEMENTS

At the New Park Theatre
In Rex Beach's "The Silver Horde," story interest vies with excellent acting for the first place among the many good things that can be said about this production. "The Silver Horde" as a novel proved to be one of the most pronounced literary successes of the present day, not only in the volume of its sale, but also in the word-of-mouth notoriety that it inspired.

On the screen this tale of strife and love in the primitive North retains all of its plot strength and interest, and is further enhanced by the convincing realism in action which only the screen can offer. To the multitudinous readers of the book it will be very thrilling to see those wonderful characters, Boyd Emeran and Cherry Malotte, directing Big George's fight against the money-worshipping trust interests of New York, taking part on the side in a little romance which gradually eliminates the haughty Mildred Wayland as a factor and settles down to a plain case of mutual adoration between Emerson and Cherry.

The unpleasant, hateful people in the story such as Marsh, unprincipled head of the Marsh Canning Company, Wayland, the financial power behind the concern, and Swanson, a prominent figure in Marsh's criminal schemes, are happily disposed of in a manner proportionate to their deserts, giving the picture a rounded-out and gratifying ending.

The cast of "The Silver Horde," which is the feature of the program at the New Park theatre, today contains such noted screen favorites as Robert McKim, Myrtle Stedman, Frederick Stanton, Betty Blythe, Curtis Cooksey, Hector Sarno, Carl Clyde and R. D. MacLean. Frank Lloyd directed the production.

Fine Western Picture at Lyceum

Do you like motion pictures of the Great West? If so, go to the Lyceum theatre and see Big Bill Fairbanks in his latest Western Feature, "The Broadway Buckaroo," from the story by W. Hughes Curran. Mr. Fairbanks is seen in his best in this production appearing in evening clothes and also in his well known western costume.

New Picture Play by James Oliver Curwood a Treat for Everyone

"The Courage of Marge O'Doone," which will be shown at the Lyceum theatre on Monday and Tuesday, is a vigorous, fighting story of primitive men and stout-hearted, beautiful women, fierce huskies and mauls, red-blooded adventure and rare romance, surprise and suspense, mystery and thrills staged in the vast white arena of the frozen North. It has all the zip and zest, the drama and color in its score of high lights that makes it just what it is—a prize special photograph production. It is a classic of the North—a masterpiece of dramatic writing made into a masterpiece of a photograph.

It is a gem of the genius of James Oliver Curwood. A born thriller. It is one of the best offerings of the season.

CROWDS AT STORE

Gruenhagen Co. Inundated by Shoppers Saturday Morning, on Occasion of Triangle Sale

At the "Triangle Sale", as advertised in the Dispatch, Gruenhagen Company offered real bargains and housewives in Brainerd and vicinity simply inundated the store at 9 o'clock this morning.

So great was the rush that the doors had to be closed for a period in order to permit the clerks to wait on the crowd inside.

W. H. Gruenhagen of the company, commenting on the sale, said that the $800 worth of special bargains fairly melted away like snow in a summer sun and that if the corporation had purchased $3,000 worth it would have been sold quickly.

"Printer's ink in cans is no good", said W. H. Gruenhagen, "but when it is spread effectively in the Dispatch in the shape of a good ad, why it's some salesman".

The articles sold were of Quality Brand Aluminum and were displayed at three tables.

MILL CITY MASONS VISITS LOCAL LODGE

Touring the Country and Visiting Masonic Lodges in Many Towns While Enroute

ENTERTAINED AT BRAINERD

Left Saturday Morning for Bemidji Later Will Visit at Detroit, Fergus Falls, Etc.

A group of six Masons from Minneapolis visited Aurora Lodge No. 109 on Friday evening and were entertained at the Masonic hall by local brothers who had been summoned by the Worshipful Master D. E. Whitney.

In the party were T. V. Moreau a 33rd degree Mason; D. W. Knowlton, custodian of the Blue Lodge; L. A. Haines, also an officer; T. G. Lee, an officer; E. F. Comstock, Master of the Lodge of Perfection of Minneapolis and a 32nd degree Mason; C. F. Thomas, a 32nd degree Mason.

It was a good fellowship meeting with talks by hosts and visitors. They left for Bemidji by car this morning and will also visit Detroit, Staples, Fergus Falls, Sauk Center, Litchfield, and Hutchinson, returning to Minneapolis about October 1.

They found the roads exceptionally good from Minneapolis to Brainerd until they got to Sixth street, where Mr. Thomas said they broke a spring of their touring car. They were however gratified to learn of the huge paving projects being carried out in Brainerd and that Sixth and Laurel streets were being considered.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES

The Chamber of Commerce received a copy of Volume 1 of the 14th Census of the United States showing the number and distribution of inhabitants.

Al Ebert, George Lowe, Ed Quinn, Dr. Cohen, Fritz Storr, Ray Gould, Franz Anderson, Carl Hough and Bill Marx are the members of the House and Social Committee who have this supper in charge.

The meeting of the resort keepers Monday at 10:30 o'clock will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and indications are that there will be a large attendance.

The Committee from the Chamber of Commerce will meet the committee from the House of Representatives Monday and will hold a short meeting after which they will be taken to Barrows and to the range towns. The party is made up of Speaker W. I. Nolan and wife; Miss Howard, secretary of the committee; Senators Gjertsen and Vibert; and Representatives Wicker, Levine, Murphy and Warner.

St. Paul, Sept. 24.—The Northwest will have a voice in future policies of the American Merchant Marine.

A meeting will be held here Monday when new foreign trade routes of the National Merchant Marine association will be discussed. Commercial organizations of principal cities of the country are cooperating with the association in mapping out future plans.

PROCLAMATION TO ATTEND DAIRY SHOW

Governor J. A. O. Preus issued the following proclamation, pointing out the value of the National Dairy show and urging the people of Minnesota to attend it at the Minnesota Fair grounds October 8th to 15th:

The Dairy cow has won her place of distinction in the agricultural development of our commonwealth and in honor of her achievement in putting our state in the lead over all other states in butter production, I desire to officially draw the attention of the people of Minnesota to the National Dairy Show, to be held on the State Fair Grounds, October 8th to 15th, next.

In this Show the dairy cow reigns supreme. Well bred, high producing representatives of the five leading dairy breeds of cattle are shown and every machine or device perfected to lessen the labor of the dairy farm and improve the manufacture of dairy products and insure their sanitary care and handling, will be on exhibit. The U. S. Department of Agriculture brings through its dairy division results of research and investigation for improvement in dairying that have gone on for years.

Boys and Girls clubs and students from Agricultural colleges from many states will show what dairy progress is being made in their respective sections and the whole show carries a conclusive message of infinite value to all of the people of this State. For this reason, as governor of the state, I wish hereby to urge our people to take advantage of this opportunity to learn what the dairy industry means to the progress and prosperity of the state and I, therefore, issue this proclamation so that our people may all be advised and invited to attend.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed hereto this twenty-third day of September, 1921.

CROWDS AT STORE

Gruenhagen Co. Inundated by Shoppers Saturday Morning, on Occasion of Triangle Sale

At the "Triangle Sale", as advertised in the Dispatch, Gruenhagen Company offered real bargains and housewives on Brainerd and vicinity simply inundated the store at 9 o'clock this morning.

So great was the rush that the doors had to be closed for a period in order to permit the clerks to wait on the crowd inside.

W. H. Gruenhagen of the company, commenting on the sale, said that the $800 worth of special bargains fairly melted away like snow in a summer sun and that if the corporation had purchased $2,000 worth it would have been sold quickly.

"Printer's ink in cans is no good", said W. H. Gruenhagen, "but when it is spread effectively in the Dispatch in the shape of a good ad, why it's some salesman".

The articles sold were of Quality Brand Aluminum and were displayed at three tables.

ENTERTAINED AT BRAINERD

Left Saturday Morning for Bemidji Later Will Visit at Detroit, Fergus Falls, Etc.

A group of six Masons from Minneapolis visited Aurora Lodge No. 109 on Friday evening and were entertained at the Masonic hall by local brothers who had been summoned by the Worshipful Master D. E. Whitney.

In the party were T. V. Moreau a 33rd degree Mason; D. W. Knowlton, custodian of the Blue Lodge; L. A. Haines, also an officer; T. G. Lee, an officer; E. F. Comstock, Master of the Lodge of Perfection of Minneapolis and a 32nd degree Mason; C. F. Thomas, a 32nd degree Mason.

It was a good fellowship meeting with talks by hosts and visitors. They left for Bemidji by car this morning and will also visit Detroit, Staples, Fergus Falls, Sauk Center, Litchfield, and Hutchinson, returning to Minneapolis about October 1.

They found the roads exceptionally good from Minneapolis to Brainerd until they got to Sixth street, where Mr. Thomas said they broke a spring of their touring car. They were however gratified to learn of the huge paving projects being carried out in Brainerd and that Sixth and Laurel streets were being considered.

PROCLAMATION TO ATTEND DAIRY SHOW

Governor J. A. O. Preus issued the following proclamation, pointing out the value of the National Dairy show and urging the people of Minnesota to attend it at the Minnesota Fairgrounds October 8th to 15th:

The Dairy cow has won her place of distinction in the agricultural development of our commonwealth and in honor of her achievement in putting our state in the lead over all other states in butter production, I desire to officially draw the attention of the people of Minnesota to the National Dairy Show, to be held on the State Fair Grounds, October 8th to 15th, next.

In this show the dairy cow reigns supreme. Well bred, high producing representatives of the five leading dairy breeds of cattle are shown and every machine or device perfected to lessen the labor of the dairy farm and improve the manufacture of dairy products and insure their sanitary care and handling, will be on exhibits. The U. S. Department of Agriculture brings through its dairy division results of research and investigation for improvement in dairying that have gone on for years.

Boys and Girls clubs and students from Agricultural colleges from many states will show what dairy progress is being made in their respective sections and the whole show carries a conclusive message of infinite value to all of the people of this State. For this reason, as governor of the state, I wish hereby to urge our people to take advantage of this opportunity to learn what the dairy industry means to the progress and prosperity of the state and I, therefore, issue this proclamation so that our people may all be advised and invited to attend.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed hereto this twenty-third day of September, 1921.

CARRIES RESOLUTION ON ARMAMENT REDUCTION

When Senator Frank B. Kellogg returned to his duties in Washington Monday he took with him a resolution addressed to President Harding and signed by three thousand five hundred Minnesota men and women expressing approval of the coming conference on the International Reduction of Armament called to convene in Washington, Armistice Day, November 11.

The signatures to the resolution were obtained at the State Fair at the educational exhibit maintained there by the State League of Women Voters and the addresses attached to the signatures show that the signers came from all over the state.

The resolution read as follows: "WHEREAS, the financial burdens imposed by war and by the maintenance of armaments has resulted in almost unbearable taxation for ourselves, and all other nations, and

WHEREAS, the recent World War has brought anguish and destruction beyond all other wars, and future wars must necessarily be more and more disastrous,

THEREFORE, be it resolved that we gratefully recognize President Harding's calling of a Conference on International Disarmament as an act of great promise to the cause of permanent peace and urge that appointments to the conference and the conduct of its proceedings be such as to assure the confidence of public opinion and the fullest measure of success."

Similar resolutions have been widely signed at county fairs throughout the state where League of Women Voters booths have been active.

The resolution was presented to Senator Kellogg by Miss Marguerite

M. Wells, State President of the League and by Mrs. Andreas Ueland, Minnesota member of the Foreign Policy Association and Chairman of the League's State Committee on International Reduction of Armament. Senator Kellogg expressed himself heartily in favor of the effort to uphold the President and stated that he knew President Harding's heart to be sincerely in the success of the Conference aims toward permanent peace through the reduction of international armament.

Decision Impending of British Govt. on Irish Peace Conference

(By United Press.)

London, Sept. 23.—The faithful and possibly the final decision of the British government toward a peace conference with Sinn Fein was impending today.

Both cabinet ministers who had been called to Gairloch to confer with Lloyd George upon the reply which will be forwarded to Eamon De Valera's latest note insisting upon sovereignty being agreed to at the conference, were considering individual drafts of the proposed note submitted to them by the premier.

Ireland, according to latest reports, looks forward hopefully to the British decision. Feeling of optimism ran higher in Dublin than in London where strong opposition to De Valera's insistence upon Irish sovereignty has developed.

Allen Sevey, so hopelessly crippled that he has to be moved about in a wheel chair, was the victim. The acquaintance took the roll and faded quickly into the forest primeval.

APPLY SULPHUR TO HEAL UP YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rashes or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin trouble can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

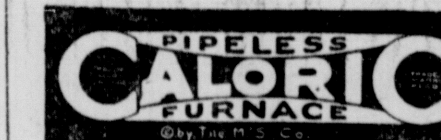

Get a small jar from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

CARRIES RESOLUTION ON ARMAMENT REDUCTION

When Senator Frank B. Kellogg returned to his duties in Washington Monday he took with him a resolution addressed to President Harding and signed by three thousand five hundred Minnesota men and women expressing approval of the coming conference on the International Reduction of Armament called to convene in Washington, Armistice Day, November 11.

The signatures to the resolution were obtained at the State Fair at the educational exhibit maintained there by the State League of Women Voters and the addresses attached to the signatures show that the signers came from all over the state.

The resolution read as follows: "WHEREAS, the financial burdens imposed by war and by the maintenance of armaments has resulted in almost unbearable taxation for ourselves, and all other nations, and

WHEREAS, the recent World War has brought anguish and destruction beyond all other wars, and future wars must necessarily be more and more disastrous,

THEREFORE, be it resolved that we gratefully recognize President Harding's calling of a Conference on International Disarmament as an act of great promise to the cause of permanent peace and urge that appointments to the conference and the conduct of its proceedings be such as to assure the confidence of public opinion and the fullest measure of success."

Similar resolutions have been widely signed at county fairs throughout the state where League of Women Voters booths have been active.

The resolution was presented to Senator Kellogg by Miss Marguerite

M. Wells, State President of the League and by Mrs. Andreas Ueland, Minnesota member of the Foreign Policy Association and Chairman of the League's State Committee on International Reduction of Armament. Senator Kellogg expressed himself heartily in favor of the effort to uphold the President and stated that he knew President Harding's heart to be sincerely in the success of the Conference aims toward permanent peace through the reduction of international armament.

Decision Impending of British Govt. on Irish Peace Conference

(By United Press.)

London, Sept. 23.—The faithful and possibly the final decision of the British government toward a peace conference with Sinn Fein was impending today.

Both cabinet ministers who had been called to Gairloch to confer with Lloyd George upon the reply which will be forwarded to Eamonn De Valera's latest note insisting upon sovereignty being agreed to at the conference, were considering individual drafts of the proposed note submitted to them by the premier.

Ireland, according to latest reports, looks forward hopefully to the British decision. Feeling of optimism ran higher in Dublin than in London where strong opposition to De Valera's insistence upon Irish sovereignty has developed.

Meanest Man Discovered

(By United Press.)

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Announce to the listening hemispheres that the "meanest man" has been at work in the Adirondacks. Allen Sevey, so hopelessly crippled that he has to be moved about in a wheel chair, was the victim. He recently asked a man at Tupper Lake hotel to take his purse, containing $147, all the funds he possessed, to the hotel office for safe keeping. The acquaintance took the roll and faded quickly into the forest primeval.

SECRETS OF KU KLUX KLAN WILL BE PROBED

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 23.—Attorney General Daugherty will probe the innermost secrets of the Ku Klux Klan to determine whether the organization is a menace to law and order, it was said at the state department of justice today.

Reports from federal agents on the activities of the Klan already are coming into Daugherty's office.

Daugherty and Wm. J. Burns, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, will await reports from other parts of the country before making public the nature of the findings. Persons professing an intimate knowledge of the Klan's activities will be summoned to Washington for examination and among them may be some of the highest officials of the organization according to Daugherty's present plans.

APPLY SULPHUR TO HEAL UP YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rashes or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin trouble can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.
